Position Title: Campus Program Coordinator

Work Schedule: Full-time

Location: CBR Southeast Region Operations (South of the Ohio, East of the Mississippi)

Travel: Some overnights and some week-long trips

Salary: Negotiable, depending on the measurable results you can achieve. Will pay more for people who can achieve more.

Job Description:

1. Work with Southeast Director to identify up to 20 major universities in your territory and assess the effectiveness of ongoing pro-life activism at those universities.
2. Build relationships with student pro-life leaders on target campuses. Where such leadership is non-existent, recruit students to organize and lead pro-life activism.
3. Help student leaders build effective pro-life organizations on their respective campuses. Help them recruit members, select projects that will save lives and change hearts and minds, avoid projects of marginal value, organize people and tasks, raise money, identify and mentor future leaders, etc.
4. Find out from individual student leaders what is working best at their respective schools, and share that knowledge generally. Of particular interest are the most successful pro-life groups (e.g., University of North Carolina, Northern Kentucky University, and Middle Tennessee State University). Your job will be to learn the strategies and tactics that achieve the best results, and help duplicate those achievements at other universities.
5. Coordinate the Genocide Awareness Project at each target university, perhaps once every two years.
6. Coordinate an annual student leadership conference.
7. Conduct personal fund-raising activities. You will receive extensive training from people who have raised their own support for pro-life activism.
8. Assist with other major projects, as needed.
